

Thornburgh Endowed Chair in Finance

The Department of Finance in the College of Business at University of Cincinnati invites applications for a newly established Endowed Chair in Finance in corporate finance. The position has been established with a generous gift from Richard E. Thornburgh, vice-chairman of Corsair Capital. The appointment will be to the rank of associate or full professor, based on track record, with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2011.

The Chair is endowed to support research in finance. The successful candidate is expected to pursue nationally and internationally recognized research in corporate finance. Candidates must hold a PhD in finance or related discipline and must be an emerging or acknowledged expert in the study of corporate finance. This position requires a candidate with a strong research record and demonstrated promise of continuing excellence in research and in teaching at the undergraduate, master's and doctoral levels. The candidate hired for the chaired position will be expected to provide a leadership role in research endeavors and to interact with other faculty members. Salary will be commensurate with the candidate's record and competitive with other university finance departments/areas.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: Founded in 1819, University of Cincinnati is a core public research university in the United States, ranking 17th in public universities in federally sponsored research in 2010. Named one of the world's most beautiful campuses by Forbes magazine, UC is the birth place of co-op education and has an enrollment of 41,250 aspiring students poised to serve and lead the world in the 21st century.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT: The AACSB-accredited UC College of Business offers bachelor's, master's and doctoral programs. The Finance Department has 12 full-time faculty members with a variety of research interests. A recent independent academic study ranked the per capita value-added research productivity of the finance faculty in 18 major finance journals as number one and doctoral graduates in the top 10. Visit <http://www.business.uc.edu/departments/finance> to learn more.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

John Glascock, PhD, Search Committee Chair | john.glascock@uc.edu
Yong H. Kim, PhD, Department Head | yong.kim@uc.edu

HOW TO APPLY:

Visit www.jobsatuc.com and apply for position number 211UC0056. Applications should include curriculum vitae, samples of research, any available recent teaching ratings, an official transcript confirming academic credentials, and names of three references that may be approached for confidential letters of assessment.